P R E F A C E.

IN issuing the Glasgow Post-Office Directory for 1901-1902, the Publishers beg to express their thanks for the liberal patronage bestowed on the work during the long period of Seventy-Three years, and desire to state that as formerly no effort has been spared to render it as accurate and complete as possible. They, however, do not hold themselves responsible for any error or omission.

A Map of the Environs of Glasgow will be found at the beginning of the book; on the back of which, for this year's issue, will be found a ground plan of the Glasgow Exhibition of 1901. The Almanac, Tide Tables, Banks, &c., Statistics of the Population of the City and Suburbs, the Parliamentary and Municipal Voters for 1900-1901, with the Parliamentary Divisions of the City and Members of Parliament, also the Voters on Electoral Roll for School Board, and the Rental of Glasgow for 1901, with a description of the revised Municipal Wards, will be found in their former positions. To these have been added a list of the Conveners and Secretaries of the various Ward Committees. In the Streets Directory (pages 671 to 973) the number affixed to the name of each street indicates the Municipal Ward in which such street is situated for electoral purposes. The numbers have been corrected in accordance with the new arrangement of the city wards. At pages 1 to 30 an Alphabetical List of Streets is given; as a handy guide to their situation the capital and small letters prefixed to each Street indicate its position on the Map, and the number affixed its registration district. The large Map, revised and brought up to date by J. Bartholomew & Co., Edinburgh, is placed at the end of the Directory.

The various Suburban Districts around the City are given, as formerly, revised and corrected. The Burghs of Govan, Kinning Park, and Partick are incorporated with the General Directory.

In the Appendix will be found useful details regarding Postal and Telegraph arrangements, together with Local and General Intelligence; and the Publishers beg to thank the gentlemen connected with the various Institutions and Public Offices for supplying much useful information.

The printing has been done, as usual, by Mr. Mackenzie, Howard Street, and the binding by Messrs. Gowans & Gray, 58 Cadogan Street.

All communications on Directory business will have prompt attention on being addressed to the Editor.

THE CITY OF GLASGOW.

The City Chamberlain is of opinion that the population of Glasgow, as now extended, and contiguous suburbs still outside the boundaries, at 1st December, 1900, was as follows:—

Within the Municipal Boundaries, ...	762,000
Within Suburban Districts, ...	147,000

Total population within City and } closely contiguous Suburbs, } . . . 909,000

To which add the number of persons } carrying on business or who are } employed within the City, and their } dependants, who reside beyond the } contiguous suburbs, } . . . 55,000

959,000

Before going to press with the foregoing estimate of the City Chamberlain, furnished to us some weeks ago, we are glad to be able to publish the actual Census return for 1901, as locally ascertained. By this return (which has, however, to be revised and confirmed by the Registrar General) the population within the City area was, on 31st March, 1901, 760,406; or 1594 fewer persons than was estimated by the City Chamberlain at the close of 1900.

No account is here taken of the value of paper notes having a forced currency, and only convertible from the nominal value to gold at a greater or less discount.

Scottish Provident Institution

ESTABL^D.

INCORP^D.

Family Settlements

IN the selection of an Assurance Office for the purpose of providing Capital Sums at Death to meet Family Settlements, Partnership or other Business Arrangements, Estate Duties, etc., the main question, after that of Absolute Security, is which Office will provide this Fund on the most moderate terms, without sacrifice of the valuable right to participate in the Surplus.

The system of the Scottish Provident Institution is specially suited for such requirements. The PREMIUMS are so moderate that, at usual ages for assuring, £1200 or £1250 may be secured from the first for the yearly payment which is generally charged (with profits) for £1000 only—the £200 or £250 being equivalent to an immediate and certain Bonus. The WHOLE SURPLUS goes to the Policyholders, on a system at once safe and equitable—no share being given to those by whose early death there is a loss to the Common Fund.

The SURPLUS at the last Septennial Valuation was £1,423,000

More than one-half of the Members who died during the Septennial period were entitled to Bonuses which, notwithstanding that the Premiums do not as a rule exceed the non-profit rates of other Offices, were on the average equal to an addition of about 50 per cent to the Policies which participated.

The next Division of Surplus takes place as at 31st Dec. 1901.

The Accumulated Funds exceed

Eleven and three quarter Millions

[The usual non-participating Rates of other Offices differ little from these Premiums.]

* A person of 30 may secure £1000 at death, by a yearly payment, during life, of £20:15s.

This Premium would generally elsewhere secure (with Profits) £800 only, instead of £1000.

OR, he may secure £1000 by 25 yearly payments of £26:10s.—being thus free of payment before age 55.

† At age 40, the Premium ceasing before age 65 is, for £1000, £32:5s.—about the same as most Offices require during the whole term of life. Before the Premiums have ceased, the Policy will have shared in at least one division of surplus. To Professional Men and others, whose income is dependent on continuance of health, the limited payment system is specially recommended.
