P R E F A C E .

IN issuing the Glasgow Post-Office Directory for 1907-1908, the Publishers beg to express their thanks for the liberal patronage bestowed on the work during the long period of Eighty years, and desire to state that as formerly no effort has been spared to render it as accurate and complete as possible. They, however, do not hold themselves responsible for any error or omission.

A Map of the Environs of Glasgow will be found at the beginning of the book. The Almanac, Tide Tables, Banks, &c., Statistics of the Population of the City and Suburbs, the Parliamentary and Municipal Voters for 1906-1907, with the Parliamentary Divisions of the City and Members of Parliament, also a description of the revised Municipal Wards, will be found in their former positions. To these have been added a list of the Conveners and Secretaries of the various Ward Committees. In the Streets Directory (pages 731 to 1045) the number affixed to the name of each street indicates the Municipal Ward in which such street is situated for electoral purposes. The numbers have been corrected in accordance with the new arrangement of the city wards. At pages 33 to 54 an Alphabetical List of Streets is given; as a handy guide to their situation the capital and small letters prefixed to each Street indicate its position on the Map, and the number affixed its registration district. The large Map, revised and brought up to date by Messrs. J. Bartholomew & Co., Edinburgh, is placed at the end of the Directory.

The various Suburban Districts around the City are given, as formerly, revised and corrected. The Burghs of Govan and Partick are incorporated with the General Directory.

In the Appendix will be found useful details regarding various Institutions and Public Offices in the City and Suburbs.

The printing has been done by Messrs. Aird & Coghill, Ltd., 24 Douglas Street, and the binding by Messrs. Gowans & Gray, Ltd, 58 Cadogan Street.

All communications on Directory business should be addressed to the Editor, Post Office Directory, 207 Ingram Street, Glasgow.

Note.—In the above valuations, standard gold is estimated at 77s. 10½d., and silver at 5s. 6d per ounce, an overvaluation at present, but in countries with a silver standard, such as India, the relative sterling value of money changes with the current price of silver, which, in November, 1892, was 3s. 3d. per oz., the rupee being at that date about 1s. 3d. of sterling value. No account is here taken of the value of paper notes having a forced currency and only convertible from the nominal value to gold at a greater or less discount.

NOT ONE'S BUSINESS

WO extremes are met with among users of STATIONERY—the man whose sole care is to get it cheaply and he who neither notices its quality nor knows anything of its cost. These are both bad attitudes to this question of Stationery. In the former case as PRICE is the only consideration QUALITY immediately suffers, and its value for actual use and as a business-impressing agent is nullified; while, in the latter case, a factor which tells in a really effective way in one's business is lying neglected for want of attention.

A MAN'S BUSINESS

is his business. Show us an individual who knows paper or any other commodity outside his own trade as well as the man who is selling it to him and we say, Give such "a wide berth." He will waste your time as he does his own. Nor can the alert City man afford to IGNORE his Stationery. Convenient, well-conceived, serviceable Stationery plays an important part in the smooth running of Office and Factory, while substantial and attractive Stationery leaving the Office,—often the only way by which one's firm can be judged,—in the desirable impression it makes, is of great value.

THE RIGHT WAY.

A good workman uses good tools, and so the Wise Business Man surrounds himself for his supplies with firms who know their trade. These will probably not be the cheapest people. But this does not bother the W.B.M. His eyes are on the essentials—his business; time saved for that is money saved. If he has ideas they are carried out intelligently and promptly by such firms; if suggestions are required they are at once forthcoming. We say therefore

"EVERY MAN TO HIS TRADE."

We ourselves are Stationers doing High-class Printing, Bookbinding and the other Manufacturing Branches of our Trade in our own Factory attached to our Warehouse. Our business has been built up from the inside, by the quality of work produced. This work is now favourably known.

AN OFFER.

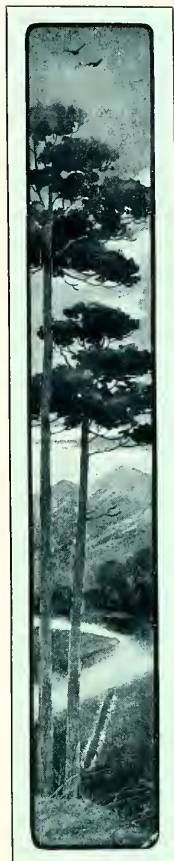

To all W.B.M. requiring improved Stationery, convenient Administrative Forms, attractive Printing, business-compelling Advertising or Catalogues—to men who apprehend that Time is Money, and their first business their business—we offer our services. We can assure all such of their getting "JUST WHAT THEY WANT" at once and with the minimum of trouble. This "is business" and worth paying for. The value you get for your money will satisfy you.
