PREFACE.

IN issuing the Glasgow Post Office Directory for 1919-1920, the Publishers beg to express their thanks for the liberal patronage bestowed on the work during the long period of Ninety-one years, and desire to state that as formerly no effort has been spared to render it as accurate and complete as possible. They, however, do not hold themselves responsible for any error or omission.

The Almanac, Banks, &c., Statistics of the Population of the City and Suburbs, the Parliamentary and Municipal Voters for 1918-1919, with the Parliamentary Divisions of the City and Members of Parliament, also a description of the revised Municipal Wards, will be found in their former positions. To these have been added a list of the Conveners and Secretaries of the various Ward Committees. In the Streets Directory (pages 691 to 1013) the number affixed to the name of each street indicates the Municipal Ward in which such street is situated for electoral purposes. The numbers have been corrected in accordance with the new arrangement of the city wards. At pages 22 to 55 an Alphabetical List of Streets is given; as a handy guide to their situation the capital and small letters prefixed to each Street indicate its position on the Map, and the number affixed its registration district.

It is regretted that owing to the abnormal increase in costs in labour and material, it has not been found possible to include the usual maps in this issue.

The various Suburban Districts around the City are given, as formerly, revised and corrected.

In the Appendix will be found useful details regarding various Institutions and Public Offices.

The printing has been done by Messrs. Aird & Coghill, Ltd., 24 Douglas Street, and the binding by Messrs. Gowans & Gray, Ltd., 58 Cadogan Street.

All communications on Directory business should be addressed to the Editor, Post Office Directory, 207 Ingram Street, Glasgow.
